ELECTION STATEMENT BY PREMIER KING EXPECTED SEPT. 5

PREMIER DECLARES DECISION ON FEDERAL ELECTION WILL BE MADE AT PROPER TIME

Government Will Not be Rushed by Discussion Started by Meighen and His Aides; Will Take Into Consideration All Facts Bearing on Welfare of Canada; Best Interests of Country at Large Not to be Sacrificed by Snap Decision.

Ottawa, Aug. 24 (Canadian Press). - "Whether or not the Government will call another session of the present Parliament is for the Government to decide. We do not propose to be stampeded into any dissolution of Parliament just to please the Leader of the Opposition and his press."

This is Premier King's declaration. In a statement to the Canadian Press he dealt with the public discussion which has been taking place with regard to the possibility of a general election this year.

"The responsibility of carrying on the country's affairs was given us by the people," he proceeded. "We have exercised it, notwithstanding all the difficult circumstances with which we have been confronted, in a manner which we believe has won us a steadily increasing measure of public confidence. Under the circumstances the responsibility of advising a dissolution would appear to be quite as great as that of continuing to carry on, despite the difficulties of Government which we necessarily experience. When we have reason to believe there are national considerations so imperative as to necessitate an appeal to the electorate, I will not hesitate to elect the Governor-General with our views and consent. When that time comes I shall be equally prepared to state the reasons to the public."

DECLARATION ON ELECTION MAY BE MADE ON SEPT. 5

Ottawa, Aug. 24 (Canadian Press). - Premier King's statement on dissolution of Parliament has left the political prophets here guessing. The prevailing impression here still is that there will be a dissolution of Parliament with a general election either late in October or early in November, but Premier King's declaration that he "does not propose to be stampeded into any dissolution of Parliament" has left considerable uncertainty as to his plans. One interpretation placed on the statement is that Premier King, from the seclusion of his summer home at Kingston, is planning a reorganization of his Cabinet, and that if his plans succeed there will be a dissolution of Parliament. Another interpretation is that, despite rumors current last week, there has been no formal decision yet either for dissolution or against it and that further cabinet consideration will be necessary.

SUPPORT OF PEOPLE

The statement dealt in some detail with the political situation. While not making any specific declaration whether it is the intention of the Government to call another session of this Parliament before advising dissolution, the Premier observed that the Government had first met Parliament with a majority of one before the Speaker was appointed. To-day after four sessions and forty-one by-elections, the Government had a majority of one without counting the Speaker. "This, surely," he added, "does not look like any lack of confidence on the part of the electorate such as would necessitate a general election before another session."

He remarked that Mr. Meighen had not hesitated when Sir Robert Borden resigned in July 1920, to form a Conservative administration and hold office for a year and a half without any authorization on the part of the people. "Of all people in the world," said Premier King, "it will become Mr. Meighen now to attempt to dictate the time of dissolution."

TO REVIEW WORK

Mr. King stated it had been his custom each year as soon after prorogation as possible to make a review of the work of the session in an address to his constituents, making this address the first of a series of political addresses in different parts of the provinces or Dominion. He stated he still intended to follow this practice and was now in communication with friends in North York, Ontario, as to a suitable date and place for a meeting.

SPEAKS FOR BRITAIN IN DEBT EXCHANGES WITH FRENCH LEADER

RT. HON. WINSTON CHURCHILL

BRITISH AND FRENCH DISCUSSING DEBT

Caillaux and Churchill Now in Negotiation on Paris Payments to Britain

London, Aug. 24 - M. Caillaux, French Finance Minister, and Right Hon. Winston Churchill, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, to-day began discussions of terms of settlement of France's debt to Great Britain, amounting to £625,000,000. M. Caillaux, before the meeting, told newspapermen he was hopeful of an agreement.

To-day's conversations were started by the two Ministers expecting to review the ground which broke up the exchanges when it seemed impossible to reach an agreement as to the amount of France's annual payments.

It was understood at the time there was wide divergence between the British desire and the French offer. The British were reported to have asked the payment of about £21,000,000 annually, while the French said they were only able to offer less than half that amount.

SUCCESS ANTICIPATED

In official circles it is believed here the visit here of M. Caillaux and his personal discussion over the table with Mr. Churchill will bring these figures closer together and quite probably lead to a definite and workable agreement.

No time has been set for the duration of the conversation and speculation as to the length, varies from three days to a week or more. (Concluded on page 2)

CONDEMNED MAN'S COUNSEL GOES NORTH ASSURED OF STAY OF EXECUTION IN GILLIS CASE

Filing of Intention to Appeal May Have Automatically Postponed Execution Set for September 4, it is Believed in Legal Circles.

A belief that Owen Benjamin Baker and Harry F. Myers, alias Sowash, by entering notice of appeal to the B. C. Court of Appeal and backing this up with a certificate of appeal may have stayed their execution automatically, which was set for September 4, is gaining credence in legal circles here.

Though opinion is divided on the point a representative group of barristers here are of the belief that the filing of the notice of appeal and the other formalities completed is sufficient indication of intention of bringing the matter to appeal and thereby carries with it, some say, a stay of execution until the appeal be heard.

TOTAL WILLOWS BETS SHOW DROP OF 20 PER CENT

Victoria's Entire Wagers This Year to be Far Below 1924 Figure

Final figures issued by Government tax officials to-day show that wagers at the Willows last week dropped over twenty per cent below the level of last year's bets at the first Willows race meet. With only one meet at the Willows this year and one planned at Colwood, as compared with last year's lengthy racing season, it is evident that Victoria's contribution to the pari-mutuel machines will be far below that of 1924.

This year's bets at the Willows totalled $337,583 only as against $429,723 last year. This is a drop of $92,140 or slightly over twenty per cent. The wagers for the recent meet were as follows:

First day, $45,469; second day, $38,103; third day, $40,328; fourth day, $55,857; fifth day, $47,064; sixth day, $45,371; seventh day, $64,673. Total, $337,583.

Last year's wagers were as follows: First day, $52,061; second day, $50,609; third day, $54,435; fourth day, $72,650; fifth day, $63,320; sixth day, $61,099; seventh day, $70,529. Total, $429,723.

BARRING OF MIGRANTS OF LESS THAN FOURTEEN YEARS CANADIAN THREE YEAR TEST

Ottawa, Aug. 24 - For three years juvenile immigrants will be admitted to Canada only when fourteen years of age or over, it is announced by the Department of Immigration. All societies will be permitted to bring any number of children they wish.

The announcement follows the statement of John W. Hobday, superintendent of the Barnardo Boys' Home in Toronto, that the society would cease its work in Canada and his criticism of the department.

The future policy regarding juvenile immigration will be determined by the forthcoming three-year experiment, which, it is expected, will largely remove any ground for complaint that children of tender years are being exploited.

EXTENSION OF CHINESE BOYCOTT AFFECTS TRADE OF UNITED STATES

Liverpool, Aug. 24 - The Shanghai correspondent of The Liverpool Post says the boycott declared by the Chinese Government against British and Japanese shippers has been extended to include United States goods. The Canton Government has officially notified United States firms and steamship lines having offices in Shanghai that all United States merchandise intended for Canton must be landed at Shanghai and reshipped in Russian or Chinese vessels.

The reason given for the boycott is that quantities of British and Japanese goods have been smuggled into Canton under United States labels. Under the new system the merchandise will be examined when landed in Shanghai for reshipment.

The fourth member of the party, Joseph Cloutier, aged twenty, managed to reach shore. He was the only member of the party who could swim.

Intent upon a Sunday picnic at Shawnigan Lake, the party of three youths and three girls, including Miss Dorothy M. Phillips, John Atkin and William Tinkpen, left Victoria shortly after 8 o'clock, proposing to catch the 9 o'clock Mill Bay Ferry. On approaching the sharp curve the right wheels of the car went off the paving, and skidded. Entirely out of control the vehicle traveled twenty-five yards before crashing sideways into the telephone pole.

The accident happened at 8:40 o'clock, and within ten minutes Motorcycle Constable Rankin of the Saanich Police arrived from Royal Oak together with Dr. E. C. Whitehouse of Stelly's Cross Road.

Arrival of the C. and C. ambulance followed closely upon completion of first aid, and the two girls were rushed to the Royal Jubilee Hospital, where Dr. F. M. Bryant took charge. Miss Phillips has not yet recovered consciousness, and is reported to be failing hourly. Sidney, Aug. 24.—The Sidney Amateur Athletic Association will hold its monthly meeting in Matthew's Hall on Monday, August 24 at 8 o'clock.

The idea of having a football team for the winter will be brought up. It has been decided to call the club the North Saanich Social Club and to have card parties, concerts and dances to raise funds. An executive committee was chosen as follows: President, Captain C. EIGHT MISSIONARIES ARE HELD BY BANDITS

British Workers Were Seized By Outlaws in China Aug. 6

Shanghai, Aug. 24.—Inquiries as to the whereabouts and the welfare of the eight British missionaries kidnapped by Chinese bandits August 6 have thus far been fruitless. The eight, including Bishop Mowll, formerly of Toronto, and five women, were taken while at a holiday resort, but details of their capture are still lacking. They are being held by bandits in the province of Szechuan, where communication facilities at present are very unreliable.

It is said here the captured missionaries were among those warned by the British consulate to leave Szechuan during the recent troubles. Advice from Kunming to the London office of the Church Missionary Society last week said all the members of the captured party were reported to be safe and receiving good treatment from the captors.

URGENT CHANGES IN CANADIAN PENALTIES

Barristers at Meeting in Winnipeg Will Suggest Use of Strap in Prisons

Fort William, Ont., Aug. 24.—One of the most important recommendations to be brought before the Canadian Bar Association at its annual meeting in Winnipeg this week, according to Judge Coatsworth of Toronto, will be a suggestion that in each Province there be established by law a probation bureau charged with the prevention of the growth of crime in children, clothed with full powers and authority to carry on such work in homes, schools and churches.

It will also be recommended that means of reformation, such as probation, parole, extra-mural permits and tickets of leave should be put in force in each province of the Dominion, and that for motor car thieves and young or first offenders the law be amended to permit of the imposition of short terms of imprisonment and corporal punishment with a strap.

"The cat o' nine tails and the lash as instruments of cruelty are out of fashion," said Judge Coatsworth. "Unfortunately, however, the impression has gone abroad that all corporal punishment falls within the boundaries of the cruel and inhuman. Those best qualified to know have concluded that a modified form of corporal punishment with a strap, usually called spanking, produces in the offender a sense of humiliation and disgrace without physical injury. A man does not feel heroic when he is being spanked."

Judge Coatsworth was one of a group of Eastern Canadian judges and barristers who arrived here today on the C.P.R. steamship Astoria on the way to Winnipeg. Others were J. E. Jones, police magistrate Toronto; Francis Arnold, K.C., and S. N. Bradford of Toronto; George Henderson, K.C., Ottawa; H. H. Jeffery, K.C., Quebec; S. Brook, London, Ont., and J. H. Kerr, Peterboro. They were joined here by other barristers who had traveled westward by train over the C.P.R. line.

The association will meet in Winnipeg Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

Return From Visit To Old Country

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—Heartily sick and tired of traveling and despondent over the failure of their attempt to gain an audience with King George in London, the four Indians who sometime ago went to England to petition the King upon certain grievances they nursed, arrived in Ottawa last night on their way to their homes north of Kamloops, B.C.

The Indians, Chief Johnnie Chilli-chista, Basil David and William Piterish, with Mrs. Julia Williams acting as interpreter, left their homes several weeks ago to gain the King's intercession to restore to them certain land rights which they claim have been taken from them contrary to the terms of an agreement with the British Government. Their venture failed entirely as they failed to gain an interview with the King.

Russell Scott Report is Denied

Chester, Ill., Aug. 24.—Dr. Frank A. Stubblefield, superintendent of the Illinois State Hospital for the Criminal Insane here, to-day characterized a report that Russell Scott, convicted murderer, had been found sane as "all wrong."

The superintendent then declined to intimate when he expected a decision in the case, saying it might not be for some time.

"I have reached no decision regarding Scott, and have had no communication whatever with the state attorney's office in Chicago regarding his case," he said.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—An unnamed member of the staff of State Attorney Crowe was quoted by The Chicago Herald-Examiner to-day as saying Russell T. Scott, convicted murderer, would be returned from the Chester Hospital for the Insane within four weeks to face the supreme penalty on the Cook County gallows once more.

The newspaper said the attitude of the state attorney's office had revealed that an informal decision that Scott was not insane had been made by Dr. Frank A. Stubblefield, superintendent of the hospital, and that the latter was only awaiting the corroboration of his decision by two consultant experts before sending Scott back.

Prince of Wales Hunts Big Game In Argentina

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 24.—The Prince of Wales left at midnight for Pustela, a night's journey from Buenos Ayres, for three days of rest and big game.

President of Alvear did not accompany the royal visitor. The party was bid farewell at the railway station by a large number of government officials and an immense crowd, which enthusiastically cheered the Prince.

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 24.—The famous Hippodrome Argentino in Palermo, a suburb of this city, was the scene Sunday afternoon of a race held in honor of the Prince of Wales.

A vast crowd faced about as the Prince and President of Alvear entered the royal box and sent up a roar of cheers.

Some amusement was caused when a number of young women appealed to the Prince to present them with a bunch of violets, and he smilingly acceded to their pleading. He tossed the violets singly among the girls and they replied by throwing flowers to the Prince, who eventually retired with his hat full.

Anti-Jewish Event Seen in Vienna

Vienna, Aug. 24.—An assemblage of anti-Semitic demonstrators, or so-called "People's convention," was held yesterday afternoon in accordance with the programme but disturbances which were feared did not eventuate. The Habsburgers numbered about 15,000 and shouts of derision, "Out with the Jews" and "Down with the Jews," were about the strongest words used.

The demonstration was in protest against the holding of the Zionist Congress here. After the mass meeting, no fewer than 10,000 persons participated in a parade, which started at the Votiv Church, passed the University of Vienna and proceeded down the Ring street. The processionists wore blue badges with the inscription, "Vienna's Demonstration Against the Reign of the Jews."

Strong Soaps

No soap that is safe for toilet use will "remove" germs any better than Palmolive

If guarding a good complexion is your aim, use a soap made to protect it

THIS is to protect beauty seekers from some false impressions. Good complexions are too precious for experiments.

There's an idea, we are told, that some soaps combat germs; and others not. That for aseptic reasons certain soaps must be used.

Soaps to "destroy" germs should be used only on advice of a physician. All soaps "remove" germs to a certain degree. No soap suitable for toilet use will "remove" germs any better than Palmolive.

In your own interest, carry that in mind. For beauty's sake, take care. Would you gamble with the good complexion it has taken you probably years to attain?

In old days, women were told, "use no soap on your faces." For soaps were too harsh. Then Palmolive came . . . a soap made of cosmetic oils . . . a soap made to protect the skin.

Women tried it, and found amazingly improved complexions and charm. Palmolive became quickly the leading toilet soap of the world. In France, home of cosmetics, Palmolive is one of the two largest selling soaps. French women have found it their ideal of a soap.

That is because Palmolive is a unique creation, based on 60 years of soap study. It is made solely for the skin.

Palmolive is not intended for laundry use or even for fine fabrics. For to be good for those things, its cosmetic qualities would need be much reduced. And millions of good complexions be thus endangered. As a "germ remover" no other soap suitable for toilet use is more effective.

But Palmolive results don't come from those other soaps. They don't come from strong soaps. They don't come from medicated soaps. Don't expect them. And don't take chances. To protect your beauty, use a soap made to protect it.

Palmolive, we frankly grant, is not the only fine complexion soap. We know of two others. But they cost you 25 cents, while Palmolive costs but 10 cents—no more than ordinary soaps. Enormous production brings you this modest cost.

Wash, launder, cleanse with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake, take care. Use Palmolive, a soap you know is safe to use. It is nature's formula to "Keep That School-girl Complexion."

No "Two-Purpose" Soap

Will Bring Palmolive Complexion Results

Palmolive Soap is made for ONE purpose ONLY—to guard your complexion and charm. It is not intended for laundry use, nor even for fine fabrics. To make it good for those things, its cosmetic qualities would need be much reduced. And good complexions are too precious to be thus imperiled.

Don't expect Palmolive results from common soaps. Don't expect them from "jack-of-all-trades" soaps—soaps claiming to be good for scores of different uses. Palmolive is a secret blend of rare cosmetic oils, a scientifically made soap to be used freely and safely on the skin—millions of clear, pretty skins prove Palmolive results.

Miners Waging Strike With Prayer and Hymns

Above, Soldiers and Strike-Breakers Stand Quietly as Union Men Pray for Their Protection and Guidance. Below, Left, A Group of Women in the Union Ranks Singing Hymns. Right, The Leader of the Union Group Carries a Hymn Book Instead of a Weapon.

HENRYETTA, Okla., Aug. 24.—The strangest strike that ever was seen is being conducted in the Henryetta coal fields here.

It is a strike in which union pickets sing hymns and pray for the welfare and guidance of strike-breakers and mine owners; in which daily song service at the mine entrances have taken the place of the abusive threats that usually are hurled at men who will not join the union.

You might call it the Golden Rule strike.

SAYS IT WORKS WELL

Further, officials of the United Mine Workers say this strange strike is working out so well that these "Christian" tactics will be continued all summer. If need be, there are five mines here employing non-union men. The union men, numbering between 500 and 1,000, quit work rather than accept a wage cut to the 1917 level.

Trouble was feared as feeling ran high. The state militia was ordered out.

But the Golden Rule strike has left the soldiers with little to do except polish their rifles and practice the ritual of guard mount.

Here is a daily scene at each mine entrance.

SING NATIONAL ANTHEM

At four o'clock in the afternoon the men quit work. On the road outside is a crowd of union men, with their wives and children. Between them and the mine is a row of soldiers with rifles. The workers look out apprehensively.

The crowd of union pickets carries many American flags. No placards, no clubs, no bricks—just flags. They group close together and then they sing the "Star Spangled Banner."

The young infantry lieutenant snaps into a salute. The privates present arms. The union men stand erect, hats off, singing straight ahead at the mine.

Then the anthem ends. Immediately the pickets break into a hymn. It is followed by another, then another. Then a man in his shirt sleeves steps forward.

raises his hands, and starts to pray. Union men and non-union men bow their heads.

ASK DIVINE PROTECTION

And the prayer? It asks divine protection for the strike-breakers—the men who are dubbed "scabs" in most strikes.

"Lord, we would not have any harm come to these men," says the reader. "Lord, hold the rocks of the mountainside up from them."

"But Lord, let them see the light, that they will not continue to deprive union men and their wives and families of that which they have worked for and which is rightfully theirs."

The leader also asks that God soften the hearts of the mine owners. Then he closes with a plea for the soldiers, praying that "These will guide and protect these soldier boys and not let them come to any harm."

Then the services end. The strike-breakers pass out quietly. The pickets stand still.

NO INSULTING CRIES

Instead of insulting cries and cat calls that are usually heard at such times, one hears a woman call to a strike-breaker:

"I'm praying for you, John Smith," or "God bless you, Jim Jones."

And that's all.

Each afternoon such a scene is enacted at each of the five mines. A few small groups of men have been induced to quit work.

Mine owners say they cannot afford to yield to the union's demands. Union men reply that they will continue their fight until Fall, if need be.

And all the while the Golden Rule strike goes on, peacefully and orderly. And every afternoon the leaders stand before the mine entrances with upraised hands and bowed heads and repeat—

"Oh Lord, we would not have any harm come to these men."

CHURCH BARS MOSLEM WOMEN FROM STAGE; STAR DEFIES EDICT

Grand Sheik Issues Ruling Which Casts Blight on Drama in Near East; Favorite Actress May Become Member of Christian Faith.

Cairo, Aug. 24.—Although women in Egypt, Syria and Turkey are tending more and more to emerge from the cloistered life of the harem and to throw into the discard the yankmish which veil their faces, the fight for women's freedom in these countries still is far from being won. The latest bomb to explode in the feminist camp has been flung by no less a person than the rector of Al Azhar, the famous Moslem university, who by virtue of his office of Grand Sheik of Islam wields an authority almost equal to that of the Pope in Catholic countries.

The Grand Sheik has issued a fatwa, or ruling, the effect of which is to prohibit Moslem women from appearing on the stage, either as actresses or singers. This announcement naturally has caused much heartburning in the Egyptian theatres. It affects principally the singers, the majority of whom are Egyptians. The majority of the actresses on the other hand are Syrian by race and many of them are Christians by religion.

The leading Egyptian dramatic star, however, is a Moslem. She is Munira-el-Mahdiah, with a voice of wondrous sweetness. Carmen and Juliet are among her favorite roles. A versatile artist, she plays also the

Reinartz's Theories Undergo Examination

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 24.—The Reinartz theories of short-wave radio communication have just undergone a remarkable series of tests which included determination of the value of the forty-meter, twenty-meter and five-meter wave lengths under various conditions at night and in day-light.

Short-wave stations of members of the American Radio Relay League in the United States, Canada and several foreign countries are assisting in the work. A number of British and Mexican stations are also participating in the test.

Working in conjunction with the League the General Electric Company has been experimenting on similar wave lengths and on varying amounts of power so that the final determinations may be based on a wide range of experiments.

Reports and logs from all of the radio stations taking part in the test which ended August 2, are being checked up by the technical staff of the league in this city and in a short time it is expected that definite conclusions may be made public as to the value of short waves under practically all conditions.

You can shield a radio receiver from body capacity by placing an aluminum or copper sheet on the back of the panel with holes cut where shafts go through so that the shield does not touch any of these shafts and ground the shield by connecting it to the negative filament lead.

SCIENCE FINDS SEA-BOTTOM FOLK STRANGE AS MARTIANS

New York, Aug. 24.—The Sargasso Sea, fabled ocean meadows off the Azores, still flaunts its floating fronds as challenge to man.

Its mysteries remain unrevealed to even so perfectly equipped an expedition as manned the super-scientific ship Arcturus, now back in port with its cargo of deep-sea wonders. But next Summer, when the storms have quieted, another effort will be made to find and explore this ocean El Dorado—if it exists.

Meanwhile, piece by piece, the jig-saw puzzle of a world of incredible creatures at the ocean's floor is being arranged in the laboratories of the New York Zoological Society. Here the scientists have unloaded from jars and tanks and boxes that cluttered the Arcturus, creatures that baffle the wildest imaginings.

"And it merely shows us how very, very little we know," remarks William Beebe, eminent scientist who headed the expedition.

"Perhaps we can hope to get some sort of an incomplete picture of these amazing creatures, who apparently left the sun and light behind to pioneer thousands of feet below and who demonstrate the astounding manner in which living things can come to adapt themselves to strange circumstances. We can at least gain some idea of changes in habits, characteristics and appearance—and there are many, many things we cannot account for yet.

"To present our problem more clearly, let us suppose that there lived in cloudland some form of life that could not come to earth because of differing pressures. Yet they wished to learn something about us and they contrived nets and hooks and things to drag along the earth and they captured such things as lay immediately before them. Now it might be that they first would cast down in the heart of the Arizona desert and would conclude that there was no life. Or they might cast down in the heart of New York and bring up a netful of people and automobiles and whatnot.

"That's exactly our problem. We may drag one day in an ocean-bottom desert and, again, may come upon a centre of creature population. And here we will find creatures distorted by conditions of air and heat and light."

Just such problems to-day lie intriguingly before Miss Lillian Segal, the expedition's chemist. What to make of the strange fishes that carry their own light plants? Like autos, they carry head and tail lights at depths where all light has been blotted out? Do they signal each other? Are these lights a means of identification for a certain species? Are certain lights carried for identification in mating?

A hundred questions arise, such as a Martian might ask if he could look upon the traffic signals, the searchlights or the bulbs of the gay white way.

At this early stage of investigation it would seem that all these creatures have evolved from fish of the upper waters, but, leaving behind them all light and heat, have found a means of generating both.

Then there is the "glass bottomed" fish—a creature with a transparent stomach, whose entire inner workings may be seen by the curious watcher; another creature that can climb in the seaweed, doing funny, monkey-like antics in swinging from stem to stem.

All this is but a peep in the undersea world. As Beebe points out it was but sixty-five years ago when oceanography had its humble beginning. At that time it was believed that no creature could live out of reach of the sun. When a Mediterranean cable broke at a depth of 6,000 feet, the recoverers found living creatures on its ends, and scientists were astounded.

The Arcturus has completed what is beyond doubt the most thoroughly scientific search ever made of the ocean bottom. Tens of thousands of specimens, many of them unknown to science, are now to be studied.

Beebe, the sun-bronzed, lean and wiry poet-explorer, who headed the adventure, has been an incurable "collector" since he was a boy according to his father who met the Arcturus upon its arrival.

"One time, I remember," recalled Beebe, Sr., "he had a roomful of snakes and they crawled out and many of them came downstairs. Oh, those were hard days for his parents. At the age of four he began to show an interest and thereafter it was birds' nests and animals and snakes and heaven knows what."

But out of this childish curiosity may come a solution of the sea's age-old mysteries.

NEW MOTOR FUEL PROCESS STUDIED

Washington, Aug. 24.—Government agencies and experts here interested in the conservation of oil for fuel and lubricants are looking into what has become known as the discoveries of Dr. E. A. Burrows, No. 189 West Madison Street, Chicago.

The inventions behind this process abandon all the theories of the production of motor fuel by what is known as the "cracking" method.

Experts assert that if the "linton" process does all that its supporters claim, then the cost of motor fuel oil and lubricants will be reduced one-half.

In the "conversion" method only low temperatures are used and no pressure is needed.

ELIMINATING ENGINE TROUBLE

In the co-called cracking process large percentages of free carbon are separated from the molecules, which are broken and permeate the gasoline and residuum. This is what causes the deposit of carbon on cylinder heads and valves, resulting in engine trouble.

The Linton motor fuel, composed entirely of methylene, is not only devoid of carbon, but it dissolves the latter in small percentages of it are mixed with free-run gasoline manufactured by cracking. It has similar effect on gasoline to tetraethyl, without carrying the lead, the dangerous element.

These now investigating the effect of tetraethyl lead on the human system are comparing it with the new process product.

Bureau of Standards experts, who are inquiring into the Linton process and its products, have been informed that any sort of lubricant, from the lightest to the heaviest, is actually being made. The recovery in the conversion of the oil is 100 per cent; five gallons comes out if five gallons goes in. A plant for the making of the products by the conversion process is now running in Milwaukee.

A shipment of the oil is on the way to Washington for the Shipping Board now.

"One big saving, if the new process works well, will be in insurance, inasmuch as fires resulting from the high temperature and high pressure method now in use do damage to the extent of $10,000,000 a year and the explosions cause more than one hundred deaths annually.

Maclean appeared for the accused.

MEN AGAIN WORK IN DRUMHELLER MINES

Drumheller, Aug. 21.—No violence of any kind occurred this morning when 50 striking coal miners watched a number of men recommence work at a couple of the mines on the "western" side of the town.

"It was the quietest form of picketing I have seen," said the superintendent of the Alberta Provincial police, who said that the men had been allowed to enter the mines on the condition that they would not make any kind of demonstration of strength while on both sides.

Supported by the 150 men from the west side of the river, the Drumheller members of the new union entered the mines and kept on the move up and down the highway.

The men who responded to the call for work were taken in the mine in automobiles.

GRAN TERMINAL EXEMPTION BEFORE COUNCIL TO-MORROW

Panama-Pacific Grain Terminals By-law Assures Protection for City

Preliminary to taking a vote of the ratepayers upon the granting of tax exemption for sixty-three years on the grain elevator proposed to be constructed by the Panama-Pacific Grain Terminals Limited at Ogden Point docks, the City Council will meet to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock in special session, to give the necessary bylaw its preliminary reading and to set the date of the referendum. Disposition of the bylaw will be concluded to-morrow, when Mayor Penland and A. J. Gibson, representative of the company, will return from Vancouver. The draft bylaw, tentatively agreed upon, gives the city great protection on a wide range of points. The terminal elevator is proposed to have a minimum weekly handling capacity of 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 of wheat and must be operated continuously from the opening of the season to the time to handle the 1926 crop. ALL WHITE WORKERS

One of the basic considerations required by the council in return for tax exemption is the employment of all white labor in construction of the elevator and in all operating services. A special clause provides that should the lessor from the Canadian National Railways be cancelled for any reason, the tax exemption granted by the city shall forthwith cease, with the result that the building of the elevator must be completed unless reconstruction is immediately undertaken.

'Lend Me Your Wife' Opens To-night at Popular Coliseum

Manager Allwood Picks Another Success for Capable Company

Following the phenomenal success of "Katinka" by the Coliseum Players this week's offering, "Lend Me Your Wife," is being eagerly anticipated by the patrons of this popular amusement house. Eva Hart is the wife, completely selected one of the brightest comedians ever written. It takes the audience from the crest of one wave of laughter to another with bewildering rapidity, and then winds up with a surprise which is as unexpected as it is funny. It is an ideal piece for the capable Coliseum company as adapted by Mr. Allwood, and the connection of it with "Katinka" was drawing such storms of applause, the most magnificent ever given, that the manager had decided to put the piece in a three-act comedy that is as surprising as it is funny. It is a play that has been a success since its first night, and Coliseum goes with hope that the versatile manager will continue to bring again soon in the same direction.

FERGUSON, NAVY MAN, STATES VIEWS

Montreal, Aug. 24.—"This is certainly not the time to consider reduction of navies or naval armaments," was the answer given by Sir James A. Ferguson, commander-in-chief of the North America-West Indies squadron of the British navy, who is here to board his flagship, the cruiser Galcutta, to a query upon proposals for reduction in armaments.

Sir James said that he had followed the developments in the Old Country, in his absence from the Dominion, and he said it was futile to talk of cutting down naval armaments in the light of events.

When he was asked to state his views on Canada's navy, he murmured, saying it was not his desire to talk of the Dominion's navy, or of a navy at all.

"I can say this, however, that your men are remarkably keen," he said. "One of your ship's patrol is about the size of the squadron and the officers and men are excellent. They show a remarkably fine spirit."

OKANAGAN CROP IMPROVES, BUT IS FAR UNDER 1925

Revised estimates of the Okanagan fruit crop were issued to-day by the Department of Agriculture. In to-day's report the percentage figures have been raised in comparison with the preliminary estimates of July 18, especially in the apple crop.

"This is accounted for principally by the improved conditions in the Vernon and Kelowna districts," the report says. Irrigation water has held out better than last year in these districts, and the trees are showing decided improvement from the ill-effects of last winter. As a result fruits are sizing and developing well.

"There is also a decided improvement at all levels in the valley with the exception of Penticton, where the water supply gave out rather early for some orchards. Crop and drought spot have retarded the crop at Salmon Arm, particularly cutting in to the McIntosh and Wealthy apples, which happen to be the leading varieties in these districts.

To-day's crop estimates and comparison with the returns for last year for the whole Okanagan district are:

1924 Crop Estimate
 Apples 1,150,550 1,812,380
 Pears 25,475 121,000
 Plums and prunes 153,989 52,880

Big decreases are also indicated in the crops in the Kootenay and Boundary districts this year.

1925 Crop Estimate
 Apples 28,477 15,000
 Pears 4,600 1,000
 Crabapples 600 1,000
 Plums and prunes 3,744 5,000

Almost Cut in Two by Blades of Launch Propeller

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 24.—Caught in the propeller of her husband's gasoline launch when she dove into Lake St. Clair, Mrs. Thelma Halman, thirty-four, was almost cut in two last evening. Mrs. Halman, who was the wife of George Halman, vice-president and general manager of the Fisher Body Corporation, Detroit, was drawn toward the boat as soon as she entered the water. Her husband failed to see her plight, and her cries for help were drowned by the noise of the engine.

AVIATORS RESCUED ON MILLBANK SOUND

Machine of Three B.C. Fisheries Patrol Men Had Drifted For Many Hours

Men Picked up by Steamship Yukon and Taken to Swanson Bay

Vancouver, Aug. 24.—Forced down to the waters of Milbank Sound on Saturday morning when they were on fishery patrol, Lieut. Allan H. Hull of the Jericho station of the Royal Canadian Air Force and two passengers experienced several hours of uncomfortable treading before they were picked up by the northbound steamship Yukon of the Alaska Steamship Company.

Capt. Hull in a short wireless report to Jericho Beach, stated he had been forced down by engine trouble and had failed to get off again because of heavy seas which were running. The machine escaped practically undamaged, however, and was towed to Swanson Bay, from which point the wireless report to Vancouver was made.

Seattle, Aug. 24.—The steamship Yukon of the Alaska Steamship Company picked up three aviators drifting, exhausted, in their machine in Milbank Sound, 400 miles northwest of here, Saturday.

The machine was towed to Swanson Bay, and the fliers revived with hot coffee and food. Capt. Gloucester, master of the Yukon, reported the machine had evidently been adrift many hours. The Yukon left here Saturday for Alaska.

Milbank Sound is roughly half way between the north end of Vancouver Island and Prince Rupert.

STUDENT IN CHICAGO BEATEN TO DEATH

His Companion Injured by Mob as Result of Remarks About Girls

Italian and Seven Other Men in Custody; Confessions Made by Four

Chicago, Aug. 24.—A University of Chicago medical student was beaten to death and a companion slugged by gangsters Sunday following a fancied insult to three sisters who had been sent by the escort of the girls. The student slain was John Henry Kiasin, twenty-five, of Manhattan, Kansas, a junior in the school of medicine. His companion was James H. Mitchell, a son of A. T. Mitchell, wealthy oil operator at Fort Worth, Texas.

EIGHT ARRESTED
 Eight men, including Archie Carroll, twenty-one, named by the police as the leader of the attack, are under arrest, confessions having been obtained from four of the men.

Sunday's crime record was also marked by the death of two duellists in a shooting affair in "The Italy" and the perhaps mortal wounding of a third.

Kiasin's skull was fractured, apparently by a paving stone, which he died without regaining consciousness after being picked up by police shortly after the attack.

REMARKS EXCHANGED
 Miss Inez Parise, sixteen-year-old daughter of an Italian banker, was standing on an front porch of her home with her younger sisters, Dolores and Emma, and her sweetheart, Capelin, when the students passed.

"You are certainly a lucky fellow to have three girls," one of them said to Archie, according to the story told by Inez. "Let's make it a party and go somewhere."

"What do you think those girls are?" Archie asked, appearing to be surprised. "They're decent and there's not going to be any party."

Then Inez said the students apologized and walked away.

BOTH WERE BEATEN
 Mitchell, who is being held as a witness, said that after he had left the vicinity of the Parise home they went to a restaurant, thinking the matter was ended, but on coming out they found Carroll and companions waiting. The students were both slugged. They fought back, but were overpowered. Mitchell escaped from the attackers and summoned police, who found Kiasin with his head crushed.

Victor Bass, one of the men under arrest, admitted he had struck the student with a piece of concrete paving block.

SEVEN MEN WERE EXECUTED IN CAIRO

 The condemned men were permitted to say farewell to their families Saturday night. All of them went to the gallows with apparent composure except Dr. Shadiq Mansour. He struggled to break away from the guards and shouted as he was led to the trap.

The bodies were given over to relatives for burial.

Nine men were convicted of complicity in the assassination of Major-General Sir Lee Stack, which occurred November 12, 1924. They included two students, two railway workers, a carpenter, a lawyer, a deputy in the civil service and the chauffeur of the car in which the conspirators were driven to the death scene. The last named received a sentence of two years imprisonment.

The murder led to a crisis in Anglo-Egyptian relations which resulted in the formation of the Egyptian ministry after the Alexandrian customs had been occupied by British forces.

DOROTHY GISH FEATURED IN NEW YORK PRODUCTION AT DOMINION THIS WEEK

Dorothy Gish, featured in "Allan Dwan's Paramount picture, "Night Life in New York," at the Dominion Theatre this week, has played many more "straight" roles—the serious dramatic kind—than comedy parts during her career on the screen, yet film fans usually think of her as a comedienne.

"Isn't it funny!" she exclaimed, when reminded of the fact. "Ever since I started to earn my own living, which was when I was a very small girl, people have thought of me as a 'funny' person. It is said that one's real nature can't be hidden, and I suppose that's the answer—I just can't keep my sense of humor from bubbling over once in a while, even when I'm playing a serious part."

"However, no matter how much I like comedy, I wouldn't want to be cast in a role which had nothing to do with comedy. Women shouldn't be entirely funny, if they want to win the approval of their audiences. The woman who mixes comedy with seriousness, even pathos, will ring the bell of public favor sooner and oftener than one who tries to be funny all the time. This is true also in the case of men—Charles Lloyd, McLean, Keaton and Ray Griffith always win your sympathy as well as your laughter—but it is doubly important with women.

SAYS WOMEN LIKE PATHOS
"I suppose the reason for it is that audiences are composed mostly of feminine patrons. And most feminine patrons, will admit that they haven't an unusually well developed sense of humor. Women like to laugh, of course; but they like to feel sad, too.
Rod La Rocque, Ernest Torrence and George Hackathorne are featured with Miss Gish in the cast of "Night Life in New York," coming to-day to the Dominion Theatre to remain for six days. The story is a screen original by Edgar Selwyn, written for the screen by Paul Schofield. Helen Lee Worthing, Arthur Housman and Riley Hatch are also included in the cast.

Quartette for this week's musical attraction. These talented young artists will present a number of pleasing southern melodies which are as a rule so favorably received by patrons who are fond of these haunting melodies. These artists have appeared with great success in most of the leading cities of the Pacific Northwest, where they have received favorable comments from newspaper critics, and they will no doubt prove a very pleasing added attraction here.

Tenor of Dumbells Appears at Playhouse

Reginald Hincks is indeed fortunate in having secured such an excellent artist as M. H. B. Williamson, late leading tenor of "The Dumbells." Mr. Williamson will be heard to advantage in the "Bohemian Girl," the cast of which is the largest and most completely competent, perhaps, that the Playhouse has ever offered to its patrons. It includes Ernie Patch, Moss Warren, Peggy Lewis, Harold Bechtel, Reginald Hincks, Wilfred Hill and the Bennett Sisters. Nine people in all, and singers every one of them.

You will thrill to Mr. Patch's powerful baritone in such numbers as "The Heart Bowed Down" and "A Soldier's Life," and you will never forget Mr. Williamson's beautiful tenor voice in that melodious solo, "Then You'll Remember Me." It will be, indeed, a festive hour of musical delight. In addition to the wonderful music by Balfe with all its beautiful melodies there is also an entirely new and original plot written by Mr. Hincks, abounding in all kinds of comedy.

This production will be, without doubt, one of the finest musical attractions this popular producer has yet offered.

All Star Cast For "Butterfly" Opening At Coliseum To-day

Skillfully Constructed Series of Dramatic Events

There came a time in the life of Hilary Collier when she decided she owed it to herself to sit down and hold communion with her soul. For years, in fact, ever since the death of their mother Hilary had obscured her own desires behind those of her younger sister Butterfly.

For Butterfly's sake Hilary had toiled in a secretarial position, had worn out-of-date clothing, had given up the man she loved.

Now Butterfly was married to the man, and yet continued to demand the things Hilary desired. So Hilary decided to hold communion with her soul.

The result sweeps "Butterfly." Universal-Jewel Clarence Brown production now being shown at the Coliseum Theatre, from a skillfully constructed series of events through

Staff of "Children of Weeks were spent in New York City by members of the Arthur H. Jacobs' technical staff, securing photographs and complete data on the First National picture of "Children of the Dust." Much of the action of this picture, which was directed by Frank Borzage, and is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, takes place around this section of the city. The two acres of park with its tall buildings and six city streets were erected in perfect detail in Los Angeles by these experts.

Nothing is Funnier Than MacLean in 'The Yankee Consul'

Newest Comedy Triumph Offered at Columbia To-day

Critics who have seen Douglas MacLean in his latest comedy success, "The Yankee Consul," declare that there is nothing funnier on the screen. This newest triumph is scheduled for its initial local presentation at the Columbia Theatre to-day.

Since MacLean became a full-fledged star he has appeared in a series of genuinely funny films. His success with "The Hottentot" is vividly recalled and the countryside is still echoing the laughter of "Going Up," which gave more laughing satisfaction to the square inch than half a dozen of the other comedy productions which reached the screen at that time.

Now comes "The Yankee Consul," which was suggested by the old musical comedy of that title that was a sensational success on Broadway with Raymond Hitchcock as the principal comedian. The screen version has been brought strictly up to the minute in point of certain embellishments deemed necessary to give the theme timely melodramatic kicks.

While comedy is the predominating underline, the picture contains many thrills, with the star and Patsy Ruth Miller as the heroine appearing in a series of exciting scenes. The cast is large, adequate and contains some of the best known names in screen land.

Night For Music Lovers at Capitol

To-night at the Capitol Theatre Music Lovers' Night will be presented under the direction of Mr. A. Prescott. A first class programme has been arranged and the selection contains numbers both new and old, all of which will be pleasing to music lovers.

Some of the numbers to be rendered during the evening are as follows: Overture, "Beautiful Gaiety," Supper, "Firefly," Frim, "Pastoral Dance," Gelman, Fox Trot, "At the End of the Road," McDonald, Fox Trot, "Just a Bundle of Sunshine," Spencer, Waltz, "Sometime," Little.

"Negro Jews" Reap Rich Harvest

New York, Aug. 24.—Two negroes born in Palestine make a very comfortable living because they have inherited the minstrel talents of their parents and have acquired the language and knowledge of Hebrew customs.

During the summer months these two men travel through the hills of Sullivan and Ulster counties, where there are great Summer colonies of Jews. They sing old favorites in the native tongue of the older generation and the newest jazz ditties for the younger generation.

Every door through the countryside is open to Mendel and David, as they call themselves. Collections from the audiences will average $20 a day or more and in the Summer they make about $4,000. In the Winter they make the rounds of the East Side restaurants and cafes.

a series of dramatic events that terminate in a surprise.
It was made with an all-star cast featuring Laura La Plante, Ruth Clifford, Norman Kerry and Kenneth Harlan. The supporting cast includes Margaret Livingston, Cesara Gravina, Freeman Wold and T. Roy Barnes. Clarence L. Brown directed. "Butterfly" is the screen version of Kathleen Norris's novel of the same name. The story was widely read and was pronounced by reviewers one of the strongest works from the pen of this famous California authoress.

Universal made the screen version one of its big productions of the current year, and critics have accorded it fine praise. The action carries the four featured players through a simple background to a brilliant scene where the little sister, a younger bride, indulges in her newly acquired penchant for a jazz life.

FORMER FOLLIES GIRL ONCE A STENOGRAPHER IS STAR IN "MAKING OF O'MALLEY"

Courage-ambition-willpower to work. That is the formula which has brought success to Dorothy Mackall, who heads the supporting cast in Milton Sills' first starring picture, "The Making of O'Malley," at the Capitol Theatre this week.

Only a few years ago Miss Mackall was a stenographer in London. Her future held out no promise of roses. She was just one of thousands of poor girls bouncing out a weekly wage on their typewriter keys.

But she had something no many of her companions in fell lacked—ambition. This was backed up by courage and willingness to work. One day she decided to break away from office routine. She sought a position in the chorus of a London musical show. To her surprise she found it.

She was only sixteen years old when she made her first stage appearance. Few of her companions of those days dreamed that this little girl of a girl would rise to the heights she has reached. Her ambition came early to the front. A few of her chorus girl friends planned to come to America. Dorothy heard them talking and decided to join them.

She was not quite seventeen when she landed in New York, a rather frightened little girl with a wealth of beautiful blonde hair. She had to work, so went straight to Flo Ziegfeld and asked for a job in the chorus of his Follies. Ziegfeld placed her in the ranks.

No girl in that chorus worked harder than Dorothy Mackall. In fact she worked so hard that a million picture producer in the audience one night picked her out as a girl with a future. He sent for her and the result was that Dorothy secured a position in the motion pictures.

Here, again, her willingness to work hard brought her victory. She cared not whether her part was big or small. She put all she had into it and eventually found herself the outstanding figure in "Mighty Lak a Rose." Followed greater success. When First National decided to put an adaptation of Edgar Meher's sensational newspaper serial, "Chickie," on the screen, Earl Lloyd, the producer, selected Miss Mackall of many candidates as the one woman who could play the title role.

Then First National placed the honor of stardom upon the shoulders of Milton Sills. Gerald Beaumont's thrilling magazine story, "The Making of O'Malley," was chosen as his first starring picture. When a leading woman was needed to support Sills, Hudson again turned to Miss Mackall. In this picture she is seen as a wealthy society girl who has tired of the useless existence of her circle and is teaching in a public school in New York City.

There is a beautiful love story in which she and Sills, as a New York policeman, find that their happiness lies along the same path.

Coal Deadlock in U.S. is Unbroken

Philadelphia, Aug. 24.—The coal miners and mine operators gave tongues and pens a rest over the week-end, which passed without publication of a suspension of the strike in the negotiations in the anthracite field of the United States. Public apprehension expressed itself in words only in Philadelphia, where the Anthracite Miners' Association passed a resolution declaring the possibility of a suspension of mine operations and designated certain of its members to confer with leaders of the opposing forces.

To all outward appearances the situation today, with but seven remaining days before the present anthracite working agreement expires on August 31, remained the same as on August 4, when negotiations for a renewal were split on the rocks of disagreement.

GIRL NEVER DANCED OR SAW THEATRE, BUT SHE IS HAPPY

Bloomfield, N.J., Aug. 24.—She is twenty years of age. She has lived for years within a community's leap of New York. Her youth was spent in progressive towns—yet—

She has never seen a movie! Never been to a theatre! Never attended a dance!

And Mrs. Theodore Hanson, in connection with whom these seemingly incredible facts are recorded, is quick to explain that it was not because of any handicap, but out of personal choice.

She has no fanatic opposition to any of the ordinary amusements of society, but it has been her personal creed that there is no necessity for all of the artificial entertainments.

The home, the normal activities of the day's work, the beauties of the outdoors, the contact with neighbors, church affairs and such. There is quite enough to keep one's mind and time occupied and hold one's interest, believes Mrs. Hanson.

Early marriage and motherhood is another of her prescriptions.

She is the mother of a fine, healthy baby and so when you mention the, the, movie or dance she smiles quite charmingly and says:

"I don't think I've missed much."

To those "modern girls" for whom life becomes a round of bridge, joyrides and jazz, theatre, dances and fests and winds up with "boredom" when there's "nothing doing," there is a serious quality in the case of Mrs. Hanson.

For here there is no boredom, and the minor notes of life take on the color of interest and adventure.

Modestly and timidly taking the attitude that she has no reason for saying anything about herself, Mrs. Hanson reveals these points regarding her background:

"I was brought up by good Christian parents who taught me what was right and wrong as early as I can remember."

"When discussion came up of movies and dances my father would explain to me why he preferred that I shouldn't go. He never forbade me, and I soon found I had no desire. I am sure I haven't missed much."

There have been so many other things—vital things—to take their place, she explains.

"My father had five children, and though he had to work hard to do it, he sent me through high school and gave me a business course so that when I was almost seventeen I had a good position as stenographer."

"Then I met my husband—and now I am twenty and have the dearest little baby and a lovely home."

"It merely goes to show that a girl can get the best there is in life and still never go to movies and theatres and dances."

POOR ROBBER.—Josephine Keating of Chicago was only seventeen; she'd lost her job as stenographer and couldn't find any work. So she got a revolver and tried to hold up a taxi driver. She was so nervous, though, that the driver took the gun away from her and carried her to a police station, where she is awaiting trial.

ART HAS INNINGS GERMAN HOTELMEN ALMOST WEEP IN NEWEST CROP AFTER STOCKING UP ON LIQUORS ON BROADWAY FOR HARD-DRINKING AMERICANS

Galsworthy, Capak, Bernstein, Rolland, Wedekind, Behavente All Figure in List

George M. Cohan to Appear Again; Cyril Maude to Play Michael Arlen Work

New York, Aug. 24.—The hunt is ended. The play hounds have chased the elusive Art through the woods and fen. Triumphantly the hunters have returned to Broadway with their quarry. And now the countryside resounds with the glaring of press agents.

From the drama kitchens there comes the pungent odor of drying paint with its promise of fresco to come. As usual there will be many whetted appetites and much indigestion.

For those who long have cried for Art with a capital A the new theatre season is well supplied with soothing syrup.

The International Playhouse, a new organization with a healthy subscription list, had from Kraft in Europe calling upon the great names of drama—Galsworthy, Capak, Ibsen, Bernstein, Behavente, Remise Rolland, Wedekind, and the rest. And she has come back with bulging brief cases and an apparent corner on the culture market.

Particularly anti-dramatic is Miss Kraft regarding a play picked up in Russia, "Soul Collisions," by one Nicolas Evreinov, and described as a "monodrama" wherein all characters resolve into one and which sounds the most fantastic of the many strange importations.

Then she has "The Christening," a dramatization of "Jude the Obscure," the first Hardy play to be secured for this country, and Gertrude Kolisch's "Franklin" along with many others.

New seasonings of the American scene and character seem to have been made by the fast blossoming home geniuses.

The American hobo, heretofore portrayed only in happy hooligan fashion, is to be given more epic treatment in "Outside Looking In," written by Maxwell Anderson from the biography of Jim Tully.

Anderson was co-author with Laurence Stallars of "What Price Glory," though his name seems to have gotten lost in the partnership somehow—or other. This writing man announced a new play, "When is Home," while two much heralded Eugene O'Neill plays are coming, "The Fountain" and "The Great God Brown."

All of these will be given at the Greenwich Village Theatre with Robert Milton, Kenneth McGowan, and Robert Edmund Jones as their "backers." Milton also announces Roscoe's "Last Night of Don Juan." Sidney Howard, who wrote the Pulitzer prize play of last year, "They Came They Saw They Conquered," has a new product, "Lucky Sam MacCarrel," which will be tried out in Cleveland.

The sophisticated school, now enjoying wide vogue, have at least one sure-fire in Michael Arlen's "The Green Hat," and it now seems that Margalo Gilmore will play the lead. Ann Harding, who has been named for that role, has suddenly been cast in "The School Mistress," a Savage production of an Italian adaptation. Meanwhile Arlen's "The Christmas People" is being rushed by Dillingham for Cyril Maude.

There is endless excitement over the return to Broadway of George Cohan with his play "American Born," in which Cohan himself is whispered as lead with Joan MacLean as his ingenue.

Thus far five productions have made their appearance under the Fall schedule. "Spring Fever," Al Wood's first, is a frothy golf hit that threatens a hearty run. "June Day," the first Shubert musical show, will be saved from a very ordinary book and story by Elizabeth Hines and the snappiest chore imaginable.

"It All Depends" has been conservatively received at the Vanderbilt with Katherine Alexander, Jane Grey and Norman Trevor. It has considerable charm but does not look like success. Miss Alexander is a delightful actress and some day will get a show that will afford her merited applause.

At the Cort is "A Lucky Break," a "comedy with music" by Zella Sears, which has to do with a professional con man, an over-popular theme and here handled quite amusingly and with a new twist. George MacFarlane is starred.

The Belwyns also are out early with "Something to Brag About," which has Sylvia Field in its cast.

Others of which there is much heralding include: the opera version of "If I Were King," a new Channing Pollock play, "The Enemy," an elaborate extravaganza "Spring and Autumn," which will be produced by the Arthur Hopkins production, "First Flight," written around the youth of Andrew Jackson; another Kaufman comedy, "The Butler and the Man"; a Jewish life play, "The Jazz King," by Samson Raphaelson, a new name to the stage; an Augustus Thomas play, "Still Water," Harrison Oakley's "The Last Kiss," with Francine Larrimore, and a new play for Lillian Foster, "Marge."

Berlin, Aug. 24.—The American appetite for alcoholic beverages, of which so much has been heard both in the United States and abroad, is a disappointment to Berlin.

Hotelkeepers of the German capital, who have been counting for months on American tourists to make their season profitable, confess to great chagrin because Americans so largely stick to ice water, lemonade and other soft drinks instead of succumbing to the allurements of wine, champagne, liquors and beer. The hotel keepers had figures that Americans, on getting away from the restraints of the prohibition laws of their own country, would indulge in the choicest treasures of Berlin's wine cellars. Their hopes have in large degree been disappointed, and for it. Some of them figure that the Americans have in the course of time been so weaned away from liquor that many do not desire it, while one hotel keeper has suggested that another reason may be that some American visitors who, if coming alone, would not hesitate to order liquor to drink, shrink from doing so in the presence of their fellow travelers or fellow countrymen at adjacent tables.

At a recent reception given by the League of German Industrialists to an American seminary party headed by Sherwood Eddy, of the Y.M.C.A., Germans who attended noticed with surprise that for the first time in the history of the industrialist league, it gave a social function at which no liquor was served.

John Griffith Way is making good progress in the filming of "The Winding Stair," his first picture for William Fox, based on A. E. W. Mason's romantic novel. Alma Ruess and Edmund Lowe have the principal roles.

Pirates Have Almost Eliminated New York

Giants Now Five Games in Rear of Pittsburgh With Little Chance of Catching Them; Johnny Rawlings Drives in Winning Run; Washington Retains One-game Lead on Philadelphia; Stanley Harris Hits Homer With Two Men on

New York, Aug. 24.—The Pirates have almost eliminated the Giants off the plank until McGraw and his crew have only a meagre tie hold now to prevent Pittsburgh capturing the National League title.

The best New York could do yesterday was to divide a double-header with the Pirates winning the opener 7-4 and taking a setback in the night cap 3-2. Rawlings, a Giant castoff, drove in the winning run in the second game.

The Pirates continue with their five-game lead on the top rung and have the present series already in the bag with three victories. The final game is today.

Washington kept its one-game margin over the Athletics in the American League race by taking the measure of Detroit 6-4, while Philadelphia was blanking the White Sox 3-0.

Sam Gray, of the Maeks, held the Sox to seven hits and Al Simmons hung up his twenty-second homer of the year. Bing Miller also slammed for the circuit.

Chicago braced after taking a 6-0 shutout from Dazzy Vance in the first game of a twin-bill and won the second from Brooklyn 9-7. Vance limited the Cubs to two scratch hits and fanned nine batters. The Cards did not play and the even break for the Robins kept them one point in arrears of the Hornsby tribe.

Bennett's triple with two on the sacks in the fourth inning put the game on ice for the Browns who turned out a 2-3 victory over the Red Sox.

Babe Ruth whacked his fourteenth homer of the season in the fifth inning of the game with the New York Yankees led their third in a row to Cleveland 7-6. Shocker, of New York, and Carr of Cleveland both were knocked out of the box.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
New York, Aug. 24.—The Pittsburgh Pirates drew an even break in a double-bill with the New York Giants yesterday, winning the second, 3 to 2, after losing the opener, 7 to 4. Pittsburgh continues to lead in the National League by a five-game margin.

SPLIT A DOUBLE-HEADER
Brooklyn, Aug. 24.—Brooklyn divided a double-header with Chicago yesterday, winning the opener, 6 to 0, and dropping the second, 9 to 7. "Dazzy" Vance was close to a no-hit game in the first game, the Cubs getting only two hits of the scratchiest kind. Vance fanned nine batters. The Robins outplayed the Cubs in the second game, and Alexander had a rocky road to victory.

Senior Golfers Tee Off To-morrow

STARTED SENIORS

One Hundred and Sixty Veterans Will Play In Greatest Coast Tourney

First Pair Will Get Away in Qualifying Round at 8.30 o'clock in Morning and Last Couple Will Not Be Away Until 3.05 in Afternoon; Field is representative of Biggest Men in all Walks of Life on Both Sides of Boundary Line

Exactly one hundred and sixty names went into the draw for the third annual championship of the Seniors Northwest Golf Association which is to open at the Victoria Golf Club to-morrow. When the time for the closing of entries arrived on Saturday the record-breaking total of 166 entries was announced by Capt. J. V. Perks, secretary of the association.

The new entries which boosted Friday night's total to 145, include the following well-known golfers: R. B. Van Tuyl of Seattle; R. W. Peters, George Moore and F. H. Stewart of Vancouver; F. H. Graves of Spokane; T. Bushner of Portland and Dan Campbell, F. Nelson, C. S. Senkler and W. J. Gosnell of Victoria.

Seattle leads in point of entries. No less than forty-two seniors will be over from the Queen City. Victoria stands second in numerical strength with thirty-nine, while Vancouver is third with an army of twenty-seven. Portland has a strong following and Spokane is close behind.

A REPRESENTATIVE FIELD
This is the most representative golf tournament ever held on the Pacific Coast, as well as the largest. The entry list includes judges from both sides of the line, generals in army, commercial and industrial life and men who have been knighted by the King of England.

Only three of the golfers have handicaps that do not figure in double figures. As S. Kerry of Seattle boasts of the lowest handicap, being a seven-handicap man. F. R. Van Tuyl of Seattle and L. A. Lewis of Vancouver, the first senior champion, are both nine-men. Some of the entrants have failed to cut their handicaps below thirty.

Spirited competition is looked for in the tournament. The qualifying round of eighteen holes will be played to-morrow and the sixteen men will form the championship flight. These alone will fight for the senior championship.

OTHER CHAMPIONSHIPS
There will be championships in the three different classes. The titles in the "A" class, which includes men over sixty-five years, the "B" class, which includes men over fifty years of age, and the "C" class which includes men over fifty-five years of age, will be competed for between the eight lowest scores in each class after the first sixteen have been taken out for the main championship. All golfers who fail to qualify for any of these championships will be formed into other flights.

A LONG DAY
Phil Taylor of Victoria and Bob Johnston of Seattle will act as starters and the draw shows that the first pair, A. S. Kerry of Seattle, and J. E. Wilson of Victoria, will get away at 8.30 o'clock in the morning. The seniors will leave in pairs at intervals of five minutes and the final couple will not depart from the first tee until 3.55 o'clock in the afternoon.

The first round of the championships will be played on Wednesday, the semi-finals on Thursday and the finals on Friday.

CAPTAINS SELECTED
Announcement was made last night that H. S. Griggs of Tacoma has been chosen captain of the American team for the annual international match for the Lieut.-Governor Cup. J. E. Wilson of Victoria will captain the Canadian team.

The draw for the qualifying round to-morrow is as follows:

SERIAL STORY

"THE LOVE CYCLE"

BY MILDRED BARBOUR

"Once," he said steadily, "I had to sacrifice my pride and my very manhood, because I was in a position where it was the least I could do. Now I am free. I am a man again. I demand the right to do a man's part. You shan't rob me of my own terms, or—
"Or?" she questioned definitely. He shrugged and left her to reach her own conclusion.

THE CRISIS

Mrs. Marlowe was watching Jane anxiously.
It seemed to her that she was growing thinner and paler daily. She wore an air of weariness for which her work at the suffrage headquarters could not entirely account. And there was a shadow in her eyes. The old Jane, who shruggled and smiled even in the darkest hours of their dark past, was gone.
With Miss Haynes dead, Mrs. Marlowe had hoped that Fortune would smile upon them both again. She hesitated for a long while before she said to Jane:
"What is it, Jane, that's troubling you? Do you still love Hal Mansfield?"

To her distress, Jane put her head suddenly down in her lap.
"Still—and always."
"Does he know?"
"Yes—he loves me too. We agreed not to see each other."
Mrs. Marlowe sighed.
"More trouble for us all! Does Helen suspect?"
"I think so. She came to me and warned me. She was rather insulting."
"Oh!" Mrs. Marlowe's voice trembled with anger. "Those Westons! How they have humiliated us!"
"Never mind, darling. Everything is over now. We'll go away, back to New York, perhaps."
"Run away again!" her mother wailed. "Oh, Jane, is there no peace or happiness for us?"

A few days later, Mansfield called on Jane at her office.
"I must see you. Can you let me come this evening?"
"Hal, please?"
"This is vital," he told her, "I need your counsel. You've never failed me before."

"At eight then," she agreed.
When he came, he said, without preliminary:
"Jane, I'm through! I'm at the end of my endurance. I have asked Helen to give up the luxury that her money buys and let me support my own family with what I make by sheer effort and without Weston's influence. She thought it over for a while. To-day she refused."

"Hal, you can't mean—"
He made a despairing gesture.
"Either I see things her way, or—"
Jane went to the window, and, pushing aside the curtains, stared out into the darkness. She knew, as well as if an oracle had spoken, that they had reached a crisis, she and Mansfield. Hitherto, Love had pointed one way, Duty another. But now Helen had taken a hand in their game of life, unconscious as she was of the significance of her move.

Suddenly, rebellion awoke in Jane. Since her earliest girlhood, the Westons had robbed her of everything that made life worthwhile. Because of them, she had worked and slaved beyond her strength to support her mother and herself. She had suffered humiliation and privation. She had drifted from place to place without peace, or security, or even semblance of happiness. And yet she had played the game!

Even when her chance for revenge had come—the chance to take Helen's husband from her—she had given up her own security, her certain means of livelihood, and gone away. And later, when she loved him and knew that he loved her, she had still remained true to the tradition of fairness and honor and decency. Even when Helen had failed him and he was born beyond a doubt, she had sacrificed herself and her own desire for happiness.

She had made him into something fine and strong and confident again—this man who had become a moral and spiritual wreck for a time. He was hers, not Helen's!

Looking out into the Winter darkness, she saw Life by the love which belonged to her. And for him, too, there was only existence, a compromise with the vital need of life. "It's not fair," she cried suddenly, striking her clenched hand against the window ledge. "Hal," she turned to him suddenly. "It's taken a great many years—but the cycle is complete. Once the Westons robbed the Marlowes. Now, I'm going to take you from your wife, because she has forfeited every right to have you."

THE CYCLE

What Mansfield told Helen, Jane never inquired, but the following afternoon, Helen rang her up for the first time since the old days before the Weston-Marlowe feud had dissolved a friendship of many years' standing.

"I want to see you," Helen said. "I want you to come to the house this afternoon. My father will be there. You understand of course, what a serious situation we have to discuss."

"If you wish to see me," Jane replied coolly, "you know where to find me. It has been many years since I came to your house by invitation; I won't come now at your command."

"Really?" Helen's laugh was plainly sarcastic. "Do you think you can afford to be so independent?"

"If you wish to see me," Jane repeated, "you know where to find me."

Shortly after luncheon, Helen arrived. She was looking very regal, every inch the spoiled woman who expects life to mold itself to her will. Weston accompanied her. He was grimmer and more formidable than ever and the look he bent on Jane would have made a less hardy heart than hers quail.

But Jane was beyond being intimidated by Weston. She faced him as courageously as she had done that day many years before, when she had accused him of robbing her mother and herself of her father's fortune.

"What's this nonsense?" he demanded sternly. "My daughter tells me that you and her husband are in love. That's a pretty pass, isn't it, when a woman is shameless enough to admit loving a married man?"

Jane turned to Helen.
"You had your chance. You threw it away. When Hal needed help, you failed him. When he stood again on his own feet, you tried to drag him down for the sake of your petty social code. I love him and want him as he is. Are you going to make me fight for him? For I warn you, I am going to fight!"

Helen looked defiant.
"Why should I give up my husband to you, whether I want him or not? We have always hated each other, you and I."

Jane came close to her.
"Once, a long time ago, your father robbed mine," she said with a stinging gesture at Weston's involuntary movement. "You have the one chance in your pitiful, self-indulgent life to make restitution for that wrong. Besides, it would be a gallant gesture: for you can't hold a man whom you have driven from you and who has learned what love is from another woman."

"You are shameless!" Helen flared, "and brutal, too!"

B.C. Business Fair, Credit Reports Show

Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—The weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, reads:
Halifax—Wholesalers report a slight improvement and retail business quiet but steady.

Montreal—Little change in trade, merchants and wholesalers declare business holding its own and collections slow.

Toronto—Wholesale dry goods are inclined to be quiet. For the most part business is fairly good in the retail trade in the city. The grocery business is affected somewhat by people being away on holidays.

Winnipeg—Wholesalers report favorable volume of business with improved demand in hardware, boots and shoes, dry goods, clothing and practically all staple lines. Retail business fairly satisfactory. Collections normal.

Regina—General improvement is noted in wholesale trade. Retail trade fair at city points and good in the country.

Calgary—Business generally continues healthy and a further considerable improvement is expected. Collections also improving.

Edmonton—Wholesale and retail trade steady. Collections fairly good.

British Columbia—Wholesalers report dry goods and hardware good. Boots and shoes and groceries fair. Collections all lines fair.

B.C. Mines Output To Show 25 Per Cent Advance This Year

Vancouver, Aug. 24.—British Columbia's mineral production this year is giving every indication of a 25 per cent advance over last year, when a new high record was set, declares Henry Browning, secretary of the B. C. Chamber of Mines.

The Portland Canal district is making heaviest shipments in its history. The Kootenay district is alive throughout, with revival of old claims and operation of new properties. Lessees in some areas of the Kootenay are making phenomenal profits from shipments to Trail smelter, he said.

Gunboat Smith, Once White Hope, Now a "Bouncer"

New York, Aug. 24.—Many men whose names once were famous and whose pockets bulged are buried in obscurity in this great city. More prizefighters proportionately fall into this class than the representatives of any other vocation.

Gunboat Smith, once the leading "white hope" in Jack Johnson's heyday, of recent years, has been a poor attendant and bouncer at prizefights here.

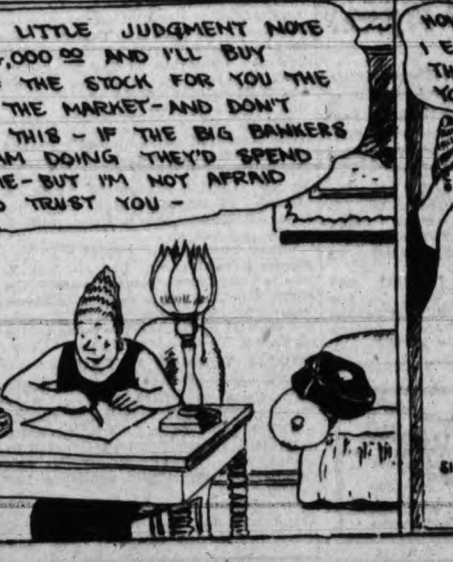

Willie Jackson, once a great lightweight and the only man who ever knocked out Johnny Dundee, is almost blind, I am told. He is selling paper and twine in the wholesale garment centre and making a living despite his handicap. His misfortunes dated from a domestic debacle.

And two men who are competitors of Jackson as twine salesmen are Dave Rosenberg and Augie Ratner, ex-prizefighters.

CALGARY HONORED ITS SOLDIER DEAD

Calgary, Aug. 24.—Calgary did honor to its soldier dead Sunday afternoon when two impressive memorial services were held in Central Park and the Union Cemetery, attended by the Governor-General and Lady Byng. Hundreds of beautiful floral tributes from organizations and individuals were placed upon the graves and monuments to the fallen soldier.

At the close of the first service, held in the park, the sun came out and shone upon the long solemn parade which marched to the cemetery, where freshly decorated graves were inspected.

HOSPITAL PATIENT DROWNED HIMSELF

Moose Jaw, Aug. 24.—Tony Reditis, a restaurant worker, walked out of the Moose Jaw General Hospital yesterday, when attendants were busy and his body was later recovered from the Moose Jaw River, which flows through the hospital grounds. Reditis had been confined to the institution for a week after being picked up from a street, where he had fallen after being overcome by a nervous disorder.

Reditis left the hospital unclothed and made a dash for the river. Nurses and attendants rushed after him, but after the first plunge he did not come to the surface.

FIRST PICTURE EVER TAKEN OF AN ACTUAL LYNCHING—Taking the law in its hands, a mob of nearly 500 men took Miller Mitchell, negro, from the jail at Excelsior Springs, Mo., and hanged him to a tree in a nearby field. Miller, accused of having attacked a white girl, told his executioners that if he had time he could prove his innocence. This photo, taken during the actual lynching, is said to be the first of such a scene in the United States.

FREIGHT RATE CLAIMS OF B.C. BEFORE BOARD

McGeer Says Equalization
Must Include Domestic Rates on Grain

Direct Tax on Bread of People of British Columbia is Opposed

Vancouver, Aug. 24.—Domestic as well as export grain and flour are included in the Order-in-Council and statute directing the Board of Railway Commissioners to equalize the freight rates on those commodities for all Western Canada, according to a brief put before the board by G. G. McGeer, K.C., counsel for the British Columbia Government.

As a result he says the remarkable differential between the domestic and export rates which Alberta wheat can be laid down in Yokohama more cheaply than on the British Columbia coast has been wiped out of existence.

Mr. McGeer's submission is up-held the dairy and poultry men of the Fraser Valley will obtain their feed grains at Crow's Nest Pass Agreement rates.

DECLARED ILLEGAL
A considerable portion of Mr. McGeer's brief is devoted to the domestic rates. He sets out that the rate on grain for domestic consumption in British Columbia is much higher than the rate on grain for export, and argues that under the new act this discrimination is illegal.

But in any event he contends there is no rule that could possibly justify the difference between the export and domestic rates on grain and flour to the British Columbia coast, a spread of approximately 100 per cent, or more than a flour miller's profit per barrel.

Grain moving for export and domestic consumption, his application points out, moves under exactly the same circumstances and conditions, incurring the same operating expenses and producing the same ratios of profit.

PROFIT TERMED UNFAIR
"By order of the board the rates for export in effect to-day were fixed as just and reasonable rates," says the application. "It is therefore submitted that the domestic rates to Vancouver include an unjust, unreasonable and unfair profit to the railway."

Mr. McGeer says these unjust rates are restricting the development of the flour milling industry on the British Columbia coast, the development of the poultry industry, which is dependent for its feed upon coarse grains from the prairies, and are denying the Alberta farmers the development of a large and profitable market close at hand for consumption of their off grade grains.

TAX ON BREAD
He also states the rates are a direct tax on the bread of the people of British Columbia of more than $1,000,000 a year over and above what is a fair price for the transportation of grain and flour from Alberta to the coast. The damage done to British Columbia in prevention of development of her industries, dependent upon feed grain, is beyond calculation, he states.

ALBERTA COAL STRIKE IS BROUGHT TO END

Men in Edmonton District Idle
Since June 30 Return to Work

Edmonton, Aug. 24.—The strike of coal miners in the Edmonton district came to an end Sunday afternoon when the miners held a meeting at which they voted to return to work. The strike had been in progress since June 30 and the miners are now returning to work at a reduction in wages amounting to thirteen per cent, for contract rates and five and ten per cent, for company and day men.

A. BAILLY-BLANCHARD DIED IN MONTREAL

Was United States Minister to Haiti; Home Was in New Orleans

Montreal, Aug. 24.—Arthur Bailly-Blanchard, United States Minister to Haiti since 1914, was found dead in his bedroom in the Mount Royal Hotel here early today.

Mr. Bailly-Blanchard arrived in Montreal August 19, but his presence here had been unknown to the United States consulate. He registered as from Rochester, N.Y., although his home was in New Orleans, La. Death apparently was due to natural causes.

Instinct Guides Subway Riders

New York, Aug. 24.—One of the most frightening experiences to the out-of-town visitor to Gotham is the first subway ride made without escort or guide. The trains whiz along at such speed and the din is so great that the nerves are affected. And there is present the fear of being carried past a station into some strange section of the city.

Thus one of the marvels to the newcomer is the assurance and non-chalance with which the New Yorker sits down and reads his paper without looking out of the window to see at what station the train is stopping. The New Yorker seems to know instinctively when he has arrived at his station, folds his paper and gets out.

The secret of this is that the subway does not run on a level plane beneath the earth's surface. It runs up and down hill and around curves and the habitual rider comes to know the system by the sound of the wheels and the swing of the cars.

They are as reliable to him as visual landmarks are to surface car and train commuters.

ROBBERY ATTEMPTS MADE IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—Winnipeg is experiencing an outbreak of "near" banditry. Apparently inspired by the recent successful $27,500 bank raid on the payroll of the Winnipeg Electric Railway Company, young men, operating in twos and fours, have been staging attempted holdups. They lack nothing in the way of equipment but courage.

Friday night four youthful bandits entered a grocery store on Portage Avenue as the proprietor was

Heavy Winds and Rain Visited
Southern Portion of Prairie
Province

At One Point Sheaves of Wheat Were Seen Floating in Field

Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—Severe wind and rain storms swept portions of this province over the week-end, resulting in further delay to the harvesting.

A feature of the storm was the spectacle of a cloud composed of thousands of brown butterflies flying in agitated fashion through the rain.

Reports from Emerson, in the southern section of the province, tell of a terrific rain and thunder storm that swept along the Winnipeg-Emerson line last night.

The wind was reported to have laid much of the standing grain on the ground. Half a mile of telephone line between Dominion and Arnaud was blown down, and Emerson and surrounding towns were without light for several hours.

Rains flooded many fields in the Otterbourne district, train passengers reporting sheaves of wheat were to be seen floating in a staked field.

This new way works wonders on cloudy teeth

Modern science, by perfecting a new way of combating the stubborn film that covers teeth, now opens the road to whiter teeth, safely.

THAT cloudy teeth, yellowish, discolored teeth can be made whiter is now an accepted fact. Foremost dentists of the world are widely using this new method. You can have cleaner, prettier teeth if you will start to-day.

This is accomplished by combating a viscous film that covers teeth. A stubborn, hard to remove film that old type dentifrices do not fight successfully.

Run your tongue across your teeth and you can feel this film. Under it are the clear, attractive teeth you envy in others. Combat it, and your teeth become many shades whiter—more gleaming. This offers you a ten-day test free. Mail the coupon.

The greatest enemy of teeth. Film is the great enemy of teeth beauty. And a chief cause, according to world's dental authorities, of most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs by the millions breed in it. They, with tartar, are the common cause of pyorrhea. It holds food in contact with teeth, inviting the acid that causes decay.

You can't have prettier, whiter teeth; you can't have healthier teeth unless you combat that film.

Ask your druggist or mail the coupon for Pepsodent. Don't expect the same results from old time dentifrices. Begin beautifying your teeth to-day.
